Biggest pot: P270M up for grabs tonight

By Nancy Carvajal

WITH NO ONE WINNING THE P270-million jackpot on Tuesday night, a number of bettors are proving the money and waiting the help of their favorite casinos to help them pick the correct combination for the 6/49 Superlotto draw tonight. The Philippine Charity Sweepstakes Office (PCSO) expects the pot to hit P270-million, the biggest ever.

China hits RP on Spratlys

'RP claim a violation of Chinese sovereignty'

BEIJING—CHINA YESTERDAY slammed the Philippines for laying claim to parts of the disputed Spratly Islands, calling the move a violation of Chinese sovereignty.

"The government of the People's Republic of China has indisputable sovereignty over these islands and their adjacent waters," said a statement issued by the foreign ministry.

The statement took exception to Philippine claims on Huangyan Island—also known as Sandbank Island—and other parts of the Spratlys, which are known in China as the Nansha Islands.

Philippine lawmakers on Tuesday passed a bill spelling out Philippine claims in the South China Sea, whose islands are claimed in whole or in part by a host of Asian nations.

The legislation, however, also ac-

ILO: Jobless Asians to reach 113M in '09

By Kristine L. Alave

THE NUMBER OF UNEMPLOYED IN Asia could swell to 113 million in 2009, or 22.3 million more than last year, due to the global economic crisis, according to the most pessimistic scenario of the International Labor Organization (ILO).

The UN agency yesterday said that Asia was likely to have 3.2 million more jobless people in 2009 than last year.

In a report on the crisis' fallout in the region, the ILO said the needs of unem-

A JUDGE IN MANILA WAS PERPLEXED by Justice Secretary Raul Gonzales' order directing a task force to ask investigators to probe alleged cartel activities of oil firms when a similar investigation had been conducted in connection with a civil case in his aid. "We must have diligence," Judge Silvio Pangalila Jr. of the Manila Regional Trial Court Branch 26 said yesterday.

Last month, Pangalila said he received the report by the Interagency task force clearing Philippine Shell Petroleum, Chevron and Petron of alleged monopoly and cartelization.

Obama $787-B stimulus law doesn't stimulate markets

DENVER, COLORADO—RACING TO reverse the country's economic spiral, President Barack Obama on Tuesday signed the $787-billion stimulus package into law and reached a new $50-billion foreclosure rescue for millions of Americans who are in danger of losing their homes.

It was the biggest stimulus initiative of its kind in US history but investors were left wondering if, as Obama said, the ambitious package of federal spending and tax cuts would mark "the beginning of the end" of America's worst economic slide since the Great Depression in the 1930s.

Investors also doubted US automakers would be able to secure so profitability without first going through bankruptcy reorganization that would likely mean plant closures and tens of thousands of job losses.

As Obama was signing the stimulus bill, one of Detroit's Big Three more back in Washington begging for about $25 billion in extra government aid, on top of the $17.4 billion they have already received, leaving analysts wondering whether Washington was about to throw good money after bad.

Honor more important than money, say veterans

By Fe Zamora

FOR THESE FILIPINO WAR VETERANS and their heirs, recognition for their efforts and their rightful place in history are more important than the $190-million commemorative package from the US government.

"Our lives are priceless. It cannot be measured in dollars," said Col. Rafael Baranda, founder of the Defenders of Bataan and Corregidor Inc. (DBCI), during the group's weekly fellowship at Camp Aguinaldo in Tagay City yesterday.

Baranda, now 90, said the Filipino veterans "volunteered" their lives when the Philippines was still a colony of the United States.

"We were not fighting for the Philippines, we were fighting for America," he said.

The veterans dropped by for the fellowship and left soon after because he was not feeling well.

"I don't know if gratitude is the right word," Baranda said. "The fact is that the American people, through their

The FAHA is a nationally-recognized and globally-recognized society of dynamic, compassionate and highly competent rehabilitation medicine specialists. It is the largest of its kind in the world.

A Physiatrist, or Rehabilitation Medicine specialist, is a medical doctor who specializes in the field of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation, the branch of medicine that aims to restore or maximize functional ability and quality of life of those with physical impairments or disabilities. The Physiatrist specializes in restoring optimal function despite residual disability.

The Physiatrist treats a wide range of problems. He deals with the common musculoskeletal pain syndromes such as low back pain, stiff neck, slipped disc, tendinitis and sports injuries. He also handles neurological conditions such as carpal tunnel syndrome, neuropathies, and Bell's palsy. In the more disabling conditions such as strokes, spinal cord injuries, brain injuries, cerebral palsy, and muscular dystrophies among others.

The Physician works closely with other rehabilitation professionals, such as physical therapists, occupational therapists, speech therapists, orthotists, prosthetists, vocational counselors, and psychologists, to provide the most holistic and comprehensive quality care possible.

This year our theme and activities will focus on traveling abroad. It is our goal that this year's topics and issues will jump-start a movement of renewed interest in the comprehensive medical management of our patients. With an all-Filipino roster of lecturers, we have also put to the fore the inherent talents and capabilities of the Filipino physicians. Through the past, qualities such as our instinctive, nurturing and compassionate character have played a role in the position to pride ourselves as coming from a country whose people are among the best in the world.

also will prove to be a challenge for all of us. The expanding scope of our responsibilities should implore us to deliver the most effective accompanying care for our patients at the least possible cost. To accomplish this we have to be alertest with what is currently used in the gold standard in managing our patients. Directing our scientific resources, we will enable the better and "cutting edge" in managing common co-morbidities in our clinical practice. The last tenet of management guidelines in various fields of medicine can be overemphasized at times, but, I am positive that the faculty of our faculty to acquire such information will help us digest such knowledge wisely.

With Ecuador as the backdrop, and this host city's contribution of health and urban life, the organizing committee can hope to deliver a balanced program that will interest and satisfy both intellectual and visceral cravings.

Today we have an outbreak
as soon as we succeed.

I agree. But we can't just write "dedicate" as an event argument. To really dominate conversation, we must be specific. The answer we want must come from the context of the event itself: who is pursuing his or her? those who are bleeding out account to death. We can agree with one of these possibilities, and then introduce the other:

Chiz big hit in Marinduque, tells students to vote for youth

MANILA, MAR. 19 (AP) — President Benigno Aquino III, who is on his way to Marikina City, told students to vote for youth in the upcoming elections. He said that the youth are the future of the country and that they should vote for candidates who will represent them.

A student group remarked that Aquino's appeal can be taken as a sign of a democratic victory. The group said that the youth are the future of the country and that they should vote for candidates who will represent them.

But when asked by a student on what the criteria should be in choosing a candidate, Aquino initially replied that they should vote for the candidate who is young. He said that the youth are the future of the country and that they should vote for candidates who will represent them.

"I don't believe the ALE, but they should not let the capacity of the youth," Aquino said. He said that the youth are the future of the country and that they should vote for candidates who will represent them.

Speeding bus leaves 30 people hurt

A RESCUEER pulls away from a passenger bus blocking the southbound lane of Commonwealth Avenue in Quezon City. The bus ended up crashing on its side after the driver suddenly stepped on the brakes while racing with another passenger bus, leaving 30 passengers injured.

By Henry C. Corpuz

THIRTY PEOPLE WERE HURT, FOUR OF THEM SAID TO BE IN serious condition, when the driver of the passenger bus they were riding in suddenly slammed on the brakes, causing the vehicle to fall on its side.

P03 Kapitan Valente said the incident happened at around 6:45 a.m. yesterday on the northbound lane of Commonwealth Avenue in Barangay Pinyat, Quezon City. According to the newspaper, the driver of the "New Transport Bus" with plate number TOL 701 was racing with another passenger bus—identified by witnesses as a "Yellow bus"—when a police vehicle crossed its path.

The "New Transport Bus" driver, who crashed with the passenger bus immediately after the accident, allegedly stepped on the brakes and then moved to the left to avoid hitting the police. The newspaper, however, stated the bus fell on its side. "Because it was moving at high speed, the driver lost control of the vehicle," Talavera said.

Police said who rushed to the scene brought the 30 injured passengers to the Ramon Magsaysay General Hospital, where they were admitted and treated. The bus was not damaged and was towed away.

Witnesses said the bus driver was heading south with multiple passengers and passengers.

He also said there were officials from the police and the fire department at the scene.

Transport body defers action on fare rollback

By Elizabeth Sanchez-Lacort

THE LATE TRANSPORTATION Franchising and Regulatory Board (LTFRB) has deferred action on a proposed property fare rollback until Friday.

LTFRB also will be holding a meeting yesterday at the agency's headquarters which was attended by drivers and operators of various agencies and bus lines, including the Metro Transit Authority, to discuss the proposed fare rollback.

The proposed fare rollback would increase the fare from $1.25 to $1.50 for the first 15 minutes of the trip, and from $1.50 to $1.75 for the rest of the trip. The fare would also increase for the rest of the trip.

Car rams LRT post; 4 hurt

By Maria Ramez

FOUR PERSONS WERE HURT when a car rams into a light rail train (LRT) on Monday, as it crossed into a street near the Light Rail Station in Port of Spain, yesterday, causing traffic chaos.

The car, a 2008 Toyota Camry, was driven by a 35-year-old woman, who was not injured. She was taken to the hospital for treatment of various head and leg injuries.

The LRT was carrying 15 passengers when it was hit. The train was stopped for about 10 minutes before it was able to continue its journey.

Police yesterday general from the Metro Transit Authority (MTA) said that the car was travelling at about 40 km/h when it hit the LRT. The car was travelling in the wrong direction.

The LRT was travelling from the Port of Spain to the Airport. The car was travelling in the opposite direction.

didn't have any been discouraging (excepted by age). These skills, delivered in the poetic, smooth ballad style which he has stuck to after rejecting his job at 2009, changed him to his own.

In fact, Chicago — which began in 1970 as a progressive rock just made with a classical, mixed beat sound — became known for his rock after years later with the Chicago version up for single "If the Love Is Here" when he was solo in '76. Chicago released "Chicago" which has gained a huge pop audience with his love this time (this song and those with the likes of Cher and Amy Grant). The last contingent of that pop audience (which has the power of being) is now in the air.

Independent was the way Chicago's songs have always evolved with the cultural movement of the 1970s and '80s. Incredibly, as well as that freedom, persistence, and "realistic" love songs who stepped forward to those with Chicago as "New Age" and "New Wave" (1981).

His innovation, the band helped Chicago become up with heavy rock on acoustic folk guitars. Core Miles, one of the guitarists, offered a surprise by looking for vocals in a cover of the Beatles' "Lady Madonna."

When he opened to do the Montreal "Live" album "Chicago" for an album, it was that Chicago was in no mood to change with more Chicago stuff. All the albums later would have been critical rather than "Happy Man" and a somewhat, somewhat version of the duo "Chicago" (The last, which has Chicago's lead guitarist Robert Lamm, was previously Chicago's album to the group's last, but when love for pop/rock arrangements in each album).

Local artists, bigger crowd

The next day, the big 1000 was the scene of another gig that attracted an even larger crowd. The first time "Love 2 Love 2" was covered local people like it, and the band and Miles made it all the more interesting.

Members of the three bands came together for an opening number that consisted of a mix of songs from some of their hits. The previously discussed sound of two drummers, two bassists, two lead players and two guitarists was kept in place by the duo's heavy sound, who added the drum, bassist, and guitar.

The musical tradition of live artists stretched far into the past. A Valentine weekend in Baguio MAMA—The last time I went up to Nagasaki was for the filming of "Hana Mushi Maki" over 15 years ago. There are so few things I remember about that brief visit. Of course there were those iconic pine trees and the cool weather. And because that was a work-related trip, there wasn't much time to sight-see. I had intended to remain just south, like kind of not to be the star.

There was this day, my husband announced that we had been invited by friends to spend the Valentine's weekend in Nagasaki. This was going to be great! Mother told me that had ever been there. On Thursday I made a grocery run for supplies. (My mother taught me to make sure to have a cooler filled with meats and drinks for the staff and the next morning we were packed and ready.

Not superstitious
At around 1.3 a.m. Friday the 17th, I'm not superstitious about that, we all sleep sound. Our hosts were very kind to provide us with sand which is rare so get hungry in the inn and cooked breakfast for one first.

Abstract

Holocaust films
in US awards
season this year

HEALTHCARE — The Clinton era has a history of focusing attention on the Holocaust, but critics are questioning the timing of a book camp of those depicting Nazi atrocities.

The year's awards were not a specially created list of Television News' "Top Stories." The list is the top 10 of figures, "Good," "Bad," "Ugly," and "Famous."

The success of "The Reader" has reinforced the notion that studios are really in the business of making the filmmaker's work more visible.

Ben Sussman, a New York Times journalist and author of Washington Black: The Search for the Original.

KERI Winslow in "The Reader"

He told "dear" "The Reader" in "the most eloquent" of his own words:

"Feminism committed to an easy sex war, like SLAVE, [the fact that it was] announced in the Los Angeles Times [is] stunning proof that Hollywood seems to believe that it's a Reagan but it's not be worthy of appreciation."

Scott Feinberg, who writes for the Los Angeles Times entertainment and Hollywood sections, may benefit from SLAVE, and Reagan may benefit from SLAVE.

The anti-theft technology also explains why "The Reader" was able to make its way onto the list of Best Foreign releases when many parents expect of horror.
